MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Law Enforcement Official:

The Department of Justice is in the process of updating its Criminal Document Image Archive or CDIA. CDIA is an electronic repository that stores all electronically submitted fingerprints, palm prints and mug shots. This expanding resource has the potential to provide major benefits to local Wisconsin law enforcement in tracking vital information, more quickly identifying persons, and keeping our communities - and law enforcement officers - safer.

Beginning in approximately November of 1998, all arrest documents received by the Crime Information Bureau were placed in the electronic archive. Documents not submitted electronically were scanned into the archive by staff in CIB. Currently all records associated with a State Identification Number (SID) higher than 630,000 are now in CDIA. It is anticipated that eventually all documents in the CIB repository will be scanned into the CDIA.

The biggest benefit of the new CDIA will be the ability to make the archive available online to local law enforcement agencies. Tools available with the web application will allow authorized users to access the images and documents in CDIA from their own desktop computer. This capability and the online availability should allow local agencies to conduct initial comparisons of latent prints to known suspects. Access to a statewide mug shot repository will also benefit local agencies by expanding mug shot resources and improving availability.

This updated CDIA has the potential to be of great benefit to Wisconsin law enforcement. However, in order to provide the most benefit from the new CDIA, I encourage law enforcement agencies to submit all arrest fingerprint cards and mug shots. For those agencies capturing digital mug shots but not including the image with your electronic fingerprint submission, I would suggest you contact your vendor and CIB to explore the possibility of submitting the entire record.

And, as always, I hope anyone wishing for more information about this or any other law enforcement technology will feel free to contact my office at DOJ at 608-266-1221 for assistance. I look forward to continuing our work together on behalf of Wisconsin's citizens.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Peg L." with a stylized flourish at the end.

*Peg Lautenschlager
Attorney General*

LEGAL POINTS

State v. Begicevic
Decided by the Wisconsin Court of Appeals,
2004- WI App 57

Legal Issue:

This recent court of appeals case explored the issue of the reasonable conveyance of the Implied Consent form to an arrested driver. The case reaffirmed the police responsibility to take all reasonable steps to communicate the contents of the form to defendants who can not speak English. Ultimately in this case the court concluded that not all-reasonable steps were taken, as the police did not attempt to find an interpreter.

Facts:

The defendant was arrested for OWI. The defendant was Bosnian who had lived in Wisconsin for a little over six years and who spoke Croatian, German, and a little English.

The arresting officer could immediately tell that English was not the defendant's primary language as the defendant had a very heavy accent and asked the officer if she spoke German. The officer did try to communicate with the defendant and subjectively felt that she was getting her points across. However the officer made no attempt to find an interpreter who spoke German nor was she aware of whether her department had arrangements with any interpreter services.

When the arresting officer brought the defendant to the police department she was met by another officer who volunteered to help because he had five years of schooling in German although he was not fluent. Eventually the test was performed on the defendant and the defendant sought to suppress the results.

Defendant's argument:

The defendant argued that the blood test should be suppressed because he did not fully understand what was going on and the police did not make a reasonable effort to convey to him the contents of the Implied Consent form.

The state's argument:

The state contended that the officers made a reasonable attempt to communicate the contents of the form.

The court's holding:

First the court discussed the seminal Wisconsin Supreme Court case on the subject- State v. Piddington, 2001 WI 24, 241 Wis.2d 754 which held that while it is not imperative that the state show a defendant understands the Implied Consent form it is required that the police make an objective good faith effort to communicate the form. Applying Piddington to this case the court held that the police did not take all reasonable steps because they should at the very least have checked to see if an interpreter was available. However, the court did not suppress the blood test as it was admissible under the 4th amendment under the exigent circumstance doctrine but they did hold that the blood was not properly seized under Implied Consent and so the state would lose the automatic admissibility of the blood which routinely follows blood seized in compliance with the statute.

Note:

My feeling is that the key to this case is that German is a fairly common language and when officers are confronted with subjects who do not speak English well but who do speak a relatively common language then the police must, at the least, attempt to procure an interpreter. This case does not overrule Piddington, but instead fleshes out what is meant by "reasonable steps" in trying to communicate the Implied Consent information to a person whose primary language is not English.

OUR APPELLATE COURT HOLDS THAT THE FELON IN POSSESSION OF A FIREARM
CRIMINAL STATUTE IS CONSTITUTIONAL

On May 18th, 2004 in the case of State v. Lewis Thomas, the appellate court held that Wisconsin Statute 941.29, which makes it a Class G felony for a convicted felon to possess a firearm, is constitutional.

First, the court held that the statute was in conformity with the Wisconsin Constitution's right to bear firearm amendment as the legislative history surrounding the amendment clearly indicates the intent to restrict the possession of firearms by felons.

Second, the court held that the statute was not impermissibly vague as it outlines clear enforcement standards.

Third, the court held that a restriction on felons possessing firearms is reasonable and that there is a rational basis for the prohibition against firearms to be applicable to convicted felons and not to convicted misdemeanants.

The bottom line is that 941.29 has survived a constitutional attack and the law making it a felony for a convicted felon to possess a firearm in Wisconsin remains in full force and effect.

ATTENTION: ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES

Reference: New Number System For Light Truck (ATK) Plates

In the next few months a new numbering system for light truck (ATK) license plates will make its appearance. The new number system will feature two letters followed by four numbers for a total of six characters. The first number in this series will be AA1001. The plates will have a white background with a sailboat/sun/barn graphic and "wisconsin" in red. The letters and numbers will be black.

Reason for change:

The present numbering system of six numbers beginning with 100001 was introduced in June 2000 on the then newly styled graphic license plate featuring "wisconsin" in red and the embossed plate numbers in black. Through the issuance of new license plates and the replacement of older designed plates the department is very close to using all of the available numbers to 999999. In order to continue to issue new light truck plates a new numbering system had to be developed.

The new numbering system will provide a pool of available numbers that will last for many years and avoid conflicting with other license plate numbering systems now in place.

Registered gross vehicle weight will be indicated by a letter weight sticker (a, b, or c) which will not be part of the plate number.

As a result the valid ATK number patterns that will therefore be:

1. New: 2 alphabetic characters followed by 4 numeric characters. Weight range signified by sticker. Beginning mid-2004. Same graphic plate design color as those issued beginning mid-2000.
2. Older: 6 numeric. Wt range signified by sticker. Plates issued mid-2000 thru mid-2004.
3. Oldest: 2 alpha followed by 5 numeric. Wt range signified by the first alpha. Plates issued 1988 thru mid-2000.

OPEN HOUSE
LABORATORY

Construction of the new Madison Crime Laboratory, located at 4626 University Avenue, is now complete and we are settling in to the new facility. The Attorney General would like to invite all Law Enforcement Agencies to an open house at the new Madison Crime Laboratory from 1:00 PM. to 4:00 PM. on Tuesday, June 8, 2004. There will be a short program at 1:00 PM. followed by tours of the Laboratory.

If you plan to attend we would appreciate it if you could notify Diana Davison at (608) 266-5710 or by e-mail at davisonde@doj.state.wi.us.

Incident Summaries

Bradford County Sheriff's Office, Veteran Deputy, aged 36, with nine years law enforcement experience with agency, and Deputy, aged 30, with over four years law enforcement experience with agency were fatally shot on 03/31/2004. At approximately 11:25 a.m., deputies were attempting to serve failure to appear bench warrant on subject at subject's father's residence. Upon arrival deputies knocked at front door, receiving no answer. Deputies walked behind house to auto junkyard when subject opened fire using 12-gauge shotgun. One deputy was killed instantly and the other wounded. Subject's father responded to gunfire and found deputies. Wounded deputy asked him to call for assistance. Medical personnel responded at scene and found both deputies fatally wounded. They withdrew from scene because no law enforcement had yet responded and they didn't know who was responsible for what happened or where subject was located. When law enforcement arrived, they determined who was responsible for incident. Roadblocks were set up around area and massive search effort was initiated involving hundreds of law enforcement personnel, to include helicopters, K-9 units, and tactical teams from the states of New York and Pennsylvania. Around 6:30 p.m. on 04/01/2004, helicopter identified subject walking on road a few miles from scene of incident. Subject was taken into custody without further incident. He has been arraigned on two counts each of first-degree and third-degree murder.

(Cont . . .)

Buncombe County Sheriff's Office, North Carolina, Veteran Deputy Sheriff, aged 34, with over nine years law enforcement experience with agency was fatally shot on 04/04/2004. At approximately 10:10 p.m., officers responded to residence to serve subject with order of involuntary commitment. Subject was hiding in bamboo that he has planted around residence. As three deputies approached residence, subject shot victim deputy sheriff at close range one time in head with 12-gauge shotgun. Subject escaped and was found by SWAT team in nearby neighbor's yard where he apparently committed suicide. Victim deputy was pronounced dead later that evening.

San Francisco Police Department, California, Veteran Officer, aged 29, with over eight years law enforcement experience was fatally shot on 04/10/2004. At approximately 9:34 p.m., plainclothes officers riding in police vehicle saw suspicious person walking on sidewalk. Officer, riding as passenger, exited vehicle to stop and identify person. Subject immediately turned and began firing at victim officer with what is believed to have been an AK-47 rifle. Subject fired 13 rounds with victim officer receiving two fatal rounds to chest. Second officer was slightly wounded from shrapnel. Subject fled scene but was apprehended on 04/11/2004 and charged with murder and attempted murder.

Virgin Islands Police Department, St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands, Veteran Police Officer, aged 45, with 12 years law enforcement experience was shot on 04/17/2004. At approximately 11 p.m., off-duty officer working as security guard at restaurant confronted three men who attempted to rob establishment as it was closing. Officer was holding first subject who entered restaurant, jumped over service counter and demanded to see store manager. Two other masked men entered and shot victim officer several times with handguns. Officer was initially treated in intensive care unit at local hospital but was airlifted to Puerto Rico when his condition deteriorated. Victim officer succumbed to his injuries on 04/26/2004. Three subjects remain at large.

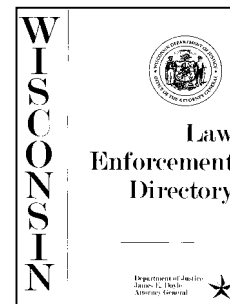

California Highway Patrol, Santa Fe Springs, California, Veteran Traffic Officer, aged 35, with five years law enforcement experience with agency was fatally shot on 04/21/2004. At approximately 2:53 p.m., officer was leaving courthouse in Pomona California, after testifying on several traffic violation related cases. While walking on public sidewalk as he approached street, vehicle drove past officer at distance of approximately 20 feet. Subject fired several rounds using .38-caliber handgun from vehicle. Victim officer was struck in neck and head and was transported to local hospital where he was pronounced dead several hours later. Los Angeles responded to Pomona Police Department (PPD) and offered immediate assistance in investigation. Within 15 minutes of shooting, police located abandoned subject vehicle parked within several blocks of incident. Execution of search warrant on vehicle resulted in discover of cellular phone still active on front seat. Subsequent to search of vehicle, subject's father and one of his sons were arrested by officers of PPD at residence for parole violation. Father stated he allowed his younger son to use vehicle on this day. On 04/22/2004, at approximately 3 p.m., PPD received tip from citizen that suspicious male was seen in commercial area located within several blocks of where incident took place. Police responded and found subject hiding in portable toilet. Follow-up search in area resulted in location of handgun, which is believed to be murder weapon. Subject was arrested and confessed to murder of victim officer. Subject will be prosecuted as adult on first-degree murder charges.

Additional details regarding these incidents are not available at this time. Should you wish to obtain information for condolence purposes, please contact your department's Law Enforcement Online (LEO) representative.
