MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Law Enforcement Official:

Currently, over 1,100 children and adults are missing in Wisconsin. The Department of Justice - Division of Criminal Investigation houses the Wisconsin Clearinghouse for Missing and Exploited Children and Adults. On May 10, 2007, the Wisconsin Department of Justice hosted the Wisconsin Missing Children and Adults Awareness Day Ceremony at the State Capitol in Madison. We honored the missing and their families at the event. We also paid tribute to the men and women of Wisconsin law enforcement who work hard every day to bring the missing home.

The Clearinghouse serves as a resource for both law enforcement and families in investigating cases involving missing and exploited children and adults. Among its multiple functions, the Clearinghouse provides access to a nationwide computer network among state clearinghouses and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC). This network is used to share information and to expedite the dissemination of leads and investigative resources to help assist in the search for missing and exploited children and adults.

The Clearinghouse also provides law enforcement agencies with technical, analytical and investigative assistance in cases involving missing and exploited children and adults. In addition, the Clearinghouse coordinates and participates in Wisconsin's Amber Alert Plan, a collaborative partnership between law enforcement agencies and broadcasters that alerts the general public when a child is abducted.

Wisconsin's Clearinghouse has received national recognition. Susan A. WhiteHorse, Manager of the Wisconsin Clearinghouse since 1999, was recently named the recipient of the U.S. Department of Justice's Missing Child State Clearinghouse Coordinator of the Year for 2007. Together with law enforcement at every level, Susan and our team at DOJ are working to bring home Wisconsin's missing persons. It is important, often life-saving work. Wisconsin thanks all those in law enforcement who are dedicated to this vital work.

The Wisconsin Clearinghouse exists to support law enforcement on every level with assistance identifying missing persons. I hope that you will take advantage of this tremendous resource.

Sincerely,

LEGAL POINTS

If you have any comments regarding Legal Points, please contact Dave Perlman, Assistant Attorney General, P.O. Box 7070, Madison, WI 53707-7070, 608/266-1420, fax: 608/266-7869.

State v. Popenhagen
2007 WI App 16 (decided by the Court of Appeals- January 31, 2007).

This case involves the applicability of the 4th amendment to bank records. The appellate court held that neither the 4th amendment nor the Wisconsin Constitution recognizes an expectation of privacy in bank records.

Facts:

This case involved several alleged thefts by the defendant from her employer, "Save More Foods". The defendant cashed dishonored checks at the store and also stole money from the store's ATM machine. The total stolen amount was approximately 29,000$.

After being informed of the thefts by the store the police officers requested subpoenas for the defendant's bank records through the District Attorney's office. The subpoenas were signed by the circuit court judges though it is unclear what procedure was used to obtain the judges' signatures.

No determination of probable cause was made in connection with the judges' approval of the subpoenas in violation of state statute Wis. Stats 968.135. The subpoenas were served on two banks resulting in the release of the defendant's records, including bank statements, copies of deposit slips and cancelled checks.

When the police confronted the defendant with her bank records and the instances where she made deposits consistent with amounts stolen, the defendant made incriminating statements. The defendant was then charged criminally with the thefts and she moved to suppress the bank records which led to her incriminating statements.

The Defendant's Argument:

The defendant argued that she had an expectation of privacy in her bank records and that the subpoenas obtained to procure the records violated the 4th amendment and the Wisconsin Constitution and Wisconsin Statutes.

The State's Argument:

The state argued that there is no expectation of privacy in bank records and even if the subpoenas violated a state statute the remedy is not suppression of the evidence.

The Court's Holding:

The Wisconsin Court of Appeals agreed with the state and held that neither the 4th Amendment of the US Constitution nor the Wisconsin Constitution provides an expectation of privacy in bank records. The Court made this finding for two reasons; 1) Bank records are not the account holder's private papers but rather they are the bank's business records, and 2) The documents obtained, including financial statements and deposit slips are information the defendant voluntarily conveyed to the bank in the ordinary course of business.

Finding that the defendant had no expectation of privacy in the bank records the court next looked at the issue of the defective subpoena. The problem with the subpoena is that it failed to articulate probable cause as required by the statute. The Court held that though the subpoena violated the statute the appropriate remedy was not suppression of the evidence as there was no violation of the defendant's 4th amendment constitutional right.

Incident Summaries

Dallas Police Department, Texas, Veteran Officer, aged 33, with approximately seven years law enforcement experience with agency was fatally shot. At about 5:30 p.m. on 03/23/2007, officer was working patrol when he responded to call from deployment officers to make traffic stop of vehicle, which had been reported as possible vehicle used in homicide few days prior. Officer pursued vehicle with other officers following. Officer attempted to stop subject by activating emergency red lights, but subject refused to stop. Instead, subject accelerated and continued through major thoroughfare. Pursuit continued into residential neighborhood at speeds in excess of 80 miles per hour. Subject lost control of vehicle, skidded across road, spun around, and ended up in front yard of residence. Officer stopped directly in front of subject vehicle and exited patrol vehicle. As other officers arrived at location, officer approached right passenger window with his baton. Subject, still inside subject vehicle, fired several rounds at officer, striking him in neck. Victim officer immediately fell to ground. Other officers dragged victim officer to safety and returned fire. Victim officer was transported to local hospital where he was pronounced deceased at 7:16 p.m. Subject was taken into custody after brief standoff. Capital murder investigation is being conducted by Dallas Police Department, Utica Police Department, New York, Veteran Officer, aged 35, with five years law enforcement experience with agency was fatally shot at approximately 9:20 p.m. on 04/12/2007. At 9:14 p.m., officer made vehicle stop. During this time, another officer passed by and officer who made stop indicated he was okay. Passing officer then left scene. Few minutes later, officer who made vehicle stop was shot in head. Later officers located vehicle approximately four blocks away from scene of incident that had been stopped by victim officer. Occupants were taken into custody and were being questioned. No weapon or shell casings have been recovered at this time.

South Bend Police Department, Indiana, Veteran Corporal, aged 32, with nine years law enforcement experience with agency was fatally shot. At approximately 1:30 a.m., on 04/24/2007, officers were dispatched to area near motel regarding shots being fired. Witnesses observed lone gunman firing shots indiscriminately at large billboard sign. When officers arrived, gunman was seen entering second floor room at motel. Officers went to room, knocked on door, and spoke briefly with subject before subject opened gunfire on officers. During exchange of gunfire, both officers were wounded along with subject. Victim corporal subsequently died at hospital as result of gunshot wounds. Wounded officer was released from hospital and is recovering from wounds. Subject was fatally wounded during exchange of gunfire. Subject, who was later identified, had long history of substance abuse problems and was under influence of drugs at time of incident.

Additional details regarding these incidents are not available at this time. Should you wish to obtain information for condolence purposes, please contact your department's Law Enforcement Online (LEO) representative.
