MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear friends,

In 2014, the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC) became an independent data service making DOC information available in real time for TIME System users. As a result of this, the format of responses from the DOC files has changed.

The responses now include additional information available directly from the DOC files such as: physical descriptors (scars/marks/tattoos), ethnicity, and vehicle information. The response also brings additional offense and incarceration information to law enforcement in the field. This includes supervision release start and end dates, incarceration end dates and disposition information. DOC will return only active offenses while suppressing the historical offenses. DOC will also return special rules of supervision and sex offender rules. If the subject is both on probation/parole and a registered sex offender, only one DOC response will be returned to include information containing both DOC file statuses.

Law enforcement is able to search the data maintained in these DOC records and can do so by querying any of the following: Name, Sex, Race, Date of Birth, Driver's License Number, Department of Correction Number, License Plate Number, Social Security Number, FBI Number, State Identification Number (SID), or the Miscellaneous Number (Passport Number or Alien Registration Number).

The standard rules for individuals on probation/parole, or registered as a sex offender, can currently be found on the public side of WILEnet under the CIB tab. Future enhancements will include return of court case file information accessible through the TIME system.

*The information returned in these responses is "Advisory only." Prior to taking any enforcement action based solely on the information returned in these responses, law enforcement should contact DOC at 1-888-222-4362.

Very truly yours,

*Brad D. Schimel
Attorney General*

State v. Dumstrey Decided by the Wisconsin Court of Appeals (December 2014)

Issue:

Whether a person has a reasonable expectation of privacy in a private, remote control operated, communal underground parking garage. The court of appeals held that this area was not curtilage and therefore a police warrantless entry into the area was not a 4th amendment intrusion.

Facts:

An off-duty police officer was driving home for a Brewer game. During this ride the officer observed the defendant driving very erratically, speeding and tailgating, and lane hopping. Based on these observations the off duty officer called the police department and reported his observations. At a traffic light the officer stopped his vehicle right alongside the defendant's vehicle and made eye contact with the defendant. The defendant appeared very sleepy looking and his eyes appeared glassy. The officer showed the defendant his badge and told the defendant to pull over. Initially the defendant complied and pulled over but then he took off and the off-duty officer pursued. The ensuing pursuit took the parties to an apartment complex and through a parking lot before the defendant entered his parking garage through the remote controlled door. The officer parked his car partway through the remote controlled door opening so that the door could not close. The officer entered the garage and made contact with Dumstrey at which point an on duty officer, who had been dispatched in response to the off- duty officer notifications, arrived on the scene and eventually the defendant was arrested for OWI.

The Defendant's Argument:

The defendant argued that he had a privacy interest in his remote controlled underground parking garage. He argued that it constituted curtilage to his apartment and therefore the officer's warrantless non-consensual entry into the garage was a violation of his 4th amendment rights. The defendant also argued that the officer's entry into his garage area was a trespass and therefore automatically should result in the suppression of any evidence the trespass generated.

The State's Argument:

The state argued that the garage was not curtilage since there were 29 other parking stalls. Therefore despite the remote controlled entry, such a communal area is not a privacy zone within the meaning of the 4th amendment. Also, the state argued that a trespass only triggers suppression if the trespass is to a 4th amendment privacy zone.

The Court of Appeal's Opinion:

The Court of Appeals agreed with the state and held that the off-duty officer's entry into the garage area did not violate the 4th amendment. The court held that a communal underground parking area is not curtilage, and not an area where a person would reasonably feel they have an expectation of privacy. The court further held that a trespass does not trigger 4th amendment protections unless the trespass occurred on a privacy interest.

Cautionary Note:

This opinion does not mean that the police could smash down the garage door or somehow tamper with the security mechanisms; as such conduct would not be viewed as reasonable. Also, keep in mind that this case was not viewed as a fleeing scenario, as it is unreasonable to expect someone to pull over merely over the presentation of a badge by a non-uniformed officer in his personal vehicle. Accordingly, the officer only had reasonable suspicion of OWI to justify an intrusion and that would not be sufficient to make entry into a home or its curtilage. Here, the police did not need a 4th amendment justification as the entry into the communal parking lot was not a 4th amendment event.

A LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER YOU SHOULD KNOW

SUBMIT A LAW ENFORCEMENT MEMBER FOR RECOGNITION

Law enforcement officers, jailors, and juvenile detention personnel work tirelessly day-in and day-out to serve and protect our citizens. All too often their daily performance is taken for granted and only becomes newsworthy when something extraordinary happens.

The Department of Justice (DOJ) would like to recognize and provide a format for agencies and peers to recognize law enforcement officers, jailors, and juvenile detention officers who exhibit exceptional commitment, dedicated community service, and ethical leadership on a daily basis as they perform their duties. While many awards exist to recognize exceptional service, the so called "routine efforts" can sometimes go unnoticed.

DOJ would like to start featuring these dedicated public servants in the Law Enforcement Bulletin. If you are interested in participating in this great recognition opportunity please submit a candidate through the electronic form now available in the Law Enforcement Bulletin section of WILENET.

On the submission form you will have the opportunity to provide a short bio of the individual and share a story or provide an example of the extra effort, kindness, or creativity that your member shows in their work on a daily basis. A photo of the individual and/or the agency logo is also encouraged. Submissions will be excepted from front-line supervisors or higher and will be reviewed by DOJ staff.
