MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Law Enforcement Colleague –

The Wisconsin Department of Justice Bureau of Justice Information and Analysis (BJIA) in the Division of Law Enforcement Services is currently preparing to begin collecting data on law enforcement use of force and arrest-related deaths, which is part of a national Use of Force (UoF) data collection. The collection of this data is part of our effort to provide quality data, research, and analysis to support law enforcement and criminal justice decision making in Wisconsin.

BJIA will be coordinating these national collection efforts at the state level in collaboration with local agencies. BJIA will integrate both efforts through one statewide collection program to decrease the burden on local agencies. This data collection will meet federal reporting requirements and provide useful information to local law enforcement agencies to help support training and prevention initiatives. As a first step, BJIA will be reaching out to various law enforcement agencies across the state to gather input on the process and content of these collection efforts. The timeline for the collection of this data is still being determined and will be communicated with all law enforcement agencies by the end of 2017.

The Use of Force (UoF) data collection will align with the FBI's national use of force collection, which is currently in a pilot mode with a target rollout for January 2018. The FBI definition of use of force includes any incident where force is used that results in death or serious bodily injury of a person, or when an officer discharges their firearm in the direction of a person. Information is designated to be collected on the incident, subject, and officer involved in each incident. However, additional data may be identified for collection based on input from Wisconsin law enforcement to ensure the data can provide both context for the incidents, as well as background to support prevention and training efforts. BJIA aims to have agencies in Wisconsin report use of force incidents on a monthly basis, along with their Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) submissions through a web form on the UCR website. Additional information about the national program, including a full list of data elements, can be found on the FBI's Use of Force website: <https://ucr.fbi.gov/use-of-force>.

The Arrest Related Deaths (ARD) program is part of the Death In Custody Reporting Act (DCRA). The reporting will include any death that occurs under the following circumstances: due to use of force by law enforcement; while the decedent's freedom to leave was restricted by law enforcement prior to, during, or following an arrest; during interaction with law enforcement responding to medical or mental health assistance; or while the decedent was confined in a correctional or detention facility. Information is collected on the incident, the decedent, precipitating events, and manner of death. The US Department of Justice's Office of Justice Programs is still determining the final process, timeline, and mechanism for this data collection at the federal level, but we anticipate that agencies in Wisconsin will report arrest related death incidents on a monthly basis through a web form on the UCR website.

Additional information on these programs will be sent to all Wisconsin law enforcement executives by the end of 2017. In the meantime, you are welcome to send comments or questions to Connie Kostelac, BJIA Director at kostelacca@doj.state.wi.us or 608-264-9473 or Derek Veitenheimer, UCR Program Manager at veitenheimerdj@doj.state.wi.us or 608-266-7185. Thank you for your continued support as we undergo additional program changes and enhancements. Your continued commitment to providing accurate and timely information is key to supporting data-driven decision making and policies, with a focus on reducing crime and victimization in Wisconsin.

Very truly yours,

Brad D. Schimel
Attorney General

State of Wisconsin v. Nesbit Decided by the Wisconsin Court of Appeals- publication ordered 9/27/17

Issue:

The court looked at whether a protective frisk was lawfully conducted on Nesbit. The court of appeals concluded that the police office had the requisite reasonable suspicion justification for a frisk.

Facts:

The police encountered Nesbit and his companion on the side of the road off highway 94, where they were walking after running out of gas. The police advised Nesbit that they could transport him to a gas station. Before allowing Nesbit to enter the squad the officer asked him if he had any weapons on his person. After being asked about weapons, Nesbit's demeanor changed noticeably. Nesbit went from calm to deflated, nervous and subdued. Based on this behavior the police became concerned and frisked Nesbit leading to the discovery of a loaded gun and marijuana.

The Defendant's Argument:

The defendant argued that the frisk was not justified by reasonable suspicion because the officer conducted the pat-down as a matter of routine, and not out a specific concern over officer safety. The defendant further argued that a police transport does not provide a blanket exception to the reasonable suspicion for a frisk requirement

The State's Argument:

The state argued that the frisk was justified because the officer had articulable safety concerns and because the officer was placing Nesbit into the squad.

The Court of Appeals Holding:

The Court of Appeals found, under an objective test, that there were particular circumstances that justified the frisk. The circumstances were: 1) Nesbit's obvious change of demeanor after being asked if he had weapons, 2) Nesbit appearing deflated, and 3) Nesbit becoming extremely nervous. The court concluded that Nesbit's drastic change in temperament was the most significant factor justifying the frisk. The court did call it a close case, and declined to announce a bright line rule that it is per se reasonable for an officer to perform a frisk for weapons every time an officer escorts a person in a squad car.

Note:

This case reminds us that a lawful frisk requires a reasonable suspicion of a safety concern and cannot be justified as a matter of routine policy. Of course, whenever an officer subjectively feels the possibility of danger he/she should frisk and let the legal system ponder the legality of the intrusion. In instances where the officer's subjective concerns are not found to be objectively reasonable, any discovered evidence will be lost, but the officer will be safe. Naturally the best scenario for a lawful frisk is when the officer's concerns are objectively reasonable based on the circumstances encountered.

FBI REPORT ON OFFICERS KILLED

Law Enforcement Officers Killed in the Line of Duty Summary Report – 2017

These statistics represent preliminary information received by the FBI during January 1, 2017 through September 30, 2017.

Thirty-two law enforcement officers have been killed due to criminal actions.

During same time period in 2016, 42 officers were slain. ## A LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER YOU SHOULD KNOW

SUBMIT A LAW ENFORCEMENT MEMBER FOR RECOGNITION

Law enforcement officers, jailors, and juvenile detention personnel work tirelessly day-in and day-out to serve and protect our citizens. All too often their daily performance is taken for granted and only becomes newsworthy when something extraordinary happens.

The Department of Justice (DOJ) would like to recognize and provide a format for agencies and peers to recognize law enforcement officers, jailors, and juvenile detention officers who exhibit exceptional commitment, dedicated community service, and ethical leadership on a daily basis as they perform their duties. While many awards exist to recognize exceptional service, the so called "routine efforts" can sometimes go unnoticed.

DOJ would like to start featuring these dedicated public servants in the Law Enforcement Bulletin. If you are interested in participating in this great recognition opportunity please submit a candidate through the electronic form now available in the Law Enforcement Bulletin section of WILENET.

On the submission form you will have the opportunity to provide a short bio of the individual and share a story or provide an example of the extra effort, kindness, or creativity that your member shows in their work on a daily basis. A photo of the individual and/or the agency logo is also encouraged. Submissions will be excepted from front-line supervisors or higher and will be reviewed by DOJ staff. The support of our criminal justice partners will make this a successful endeavor and provide some well-deserved recognition to those in the field.

The general Department of Justice mailing address is P.O. Box 7857, Madison, Wisconsin, 53707-7857. Offices are physically located at 17 W. Main Street, Madison, Wisconsin.

Address all correspondence to: Donna Hahn, Editor, Law Enforcement Bulletin, P.O. Box 7070, Madison, WI 53707-7070

Phone: 608-267-1304 hahndg@doj.state.wi.us Fax: 608-266-7869

The deadline for all submissions is the 15th of the month prior to the month of publication.

The matter contained in this bulletin is intended for the use and information of all those involved in the criminal justice system. Nothing contained herein is to be construed as an official opinion or expression of policy by the Attorney General, the Department of Justice, or any other law enforcement official of the State of Wisconsin unless expressly so indicated.

OCTOBER TOP COP

Top Cop and Racine Police Officer Tim Cisler is using his skills on the bicycle to connect with young people in Racine, and teaching them a set of skills while he is at it. As a Community Policing Unit House Officer, Officer Cisler works out of a Racine Police Department-owned house in a Racine neighborhood where he can respond to crimes quickly but also build a relationship with community members. Through his unofficial bike program, Officer Cisler helps get bikes to kids in the area, teaches them how to maintain and fix the bikes, and organizes neighborhood rides. Read the story from The Journal Times:

One Racine police officer is taking community policing up to the next gear by teaching neighborhood kids how to fix their bikes, and in some cases, finding them one to ride.

Community Policing Unit House Officer Tim Cisler said it's something that's in his personal wheelhouse.

"Some officers are good at sports. I'm terrible at sports but I can ride the heck out of a bike," Cisler said. "I figure if there is a need to be met, let's do it."...

"There are a lot of kids and they ride bikes everywhere," Cisler said. "When I was a kid, I covered all sorts of ground with a bike. These kids cover a lot of ground in this neighborhood and get a lot of flats."

The bikes always need repairs, brakes, chains off the sprocket and hundreds of patches over a summer. Cisler teaches the kids how to fix their own bikes.

"His favorite thing to say is 'fix it,'" said Mitchell Middle School student Kamari Andrews. "Being a bike mechanic is harder than it looks."

Andrews, 12, had to walk everywhere before he ran into Officer Cisler. Now he takes care of a full-sized purple Iron Man mountain bike as an incentive for positive behavior at the COP house.

Andrews admits he's seen crime in his neighborhood and stays out of trouble.

"I know who the gang members are. If I see them, I jump on my bike," Andrews said.

Following a community service project with the kids, Cisler packed up his bike and led a group on a 10-mile bike ride.

Fratt Elementary School student Ismael Morales, 10, now has an 18-inch green BMX bike and smiled when he remembered the trip.

"It was fun. We went fishing and stopped for lunch at a taco place that was really good," Morales said.

On Thursday, Cisler showed Andrews a damaged inner tube, fixed it and then taught Morales how to repair the bike tire[...]

The payoff for Cisler is keeping the kids on the straight and narrow.

"It's about creating young leaders in the neighborhood," Cisler said. "There's one boy who we figured out was really good with his hands and fixing things. He's now got his own tool box and if I'm not around, kids go to him."

Last month, Andrews joined the Police Department's Explorers, an organization for youth interested in law enforcement careers, to learn about Cisler's job, with the hope of becoming a police officer himself one day.

"I see what regular police officers do on the street," Andrews said. "It's a lot of work."

Cisler is proud of him, but he's trying to stay humble.

"He's very observant. Even if he doesn't become a police officer, he'll be a good witness," Cisler said.

Officer Cisler is sharing a healthy hobby that young people in Racine can embrace, and exposing them to a possible career in law enforcement. Keep up the good work officer, and stay safe!

Do you know a Top Cop in your community? Let us know by sending your Top Cop submissions to doicommunications@doj.state.wi.us.
