MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Law Enforcement Official:

Eyewitnesses frequently play a vital role in our criminal justice system. The evidence they provide can be critical in identifying, charging, and ultimately convicting suspected criminals and in some cases may provide the sole piece of evidence against those individuals. For these reasons, the value of accurate and reliable eyewitness evidence cannot be overstated.

One way of ensuring the most accurate and reliable evidence from eyewitnesses is to follow sound protocols. My office and the Wisconsin Department of Justice (DOJ) are committed to working in partnership with local Wisconsin law enforcement to improve and enhance these protocols.

Cases in which DNA testing has exonerated individuals convicted on the basis of eyewitness testimony have made headlines. Regardless of how many or few demonstrated cases of mistaken eyewitness identifications have occurred, even one such case is too many. To reduce the potential for erroneous eyewitness identification in criminal cases, it is essential that law enforcement agencies adopt procedures to enhance the reliability of eyewitness identification.

At my recent annual law enforcement conference in May I highlighted the importance of adopting and/or developing procedures for lineups and photospreads. My office discussed and distributed Standards Governing Eyewitness Identification In Wisconsin. Copies of the standards can be found on WILENET.

I am also interested in working directly with you in improving ways my office can assist local law enforcement with eyewitness identification standards. As always, my staff and I are available to help you.

The adoption of recommendations and procedures into your existing lineup practices can help minimize the mistaken identification. Together, we're working on ways to constantly improve our justice system, and protect the citizens of Wisconsin.

Very truly yours,

Thornton v. United States
Decided by the United States Supreme Court
(May 24th, 2004)

Legal Issue:

In this case the United States Supreme Court analyzed the issue of whether or not a search incident to an arrest of a vehicle is limited to those instances where the defendant is initially stopped while in the car. The court held that a search of a vehicle incident to an arrest is still proper under certain circumstances even when the defendant is first contacted outside of his vehicle.

Facts:

Before the officer could pull over the vehicle the defendant parked and got out of his car. The officer then parked and stopped the defendant outside of his car. Eventually the officer arrested the defendant after lawfully finding drugs on the defendant's person. The officer then conducted a search incident to the arrest of the defendant's vehicle and found a handgun under the defendant's seat. The defendant was then charged with federal drug and firearm violations.

Defendant's position:

The defendant argued that the discovery of his handgun was unlawful because a search incident to an arrest of a vehicle is limited to those situations where the officer initiated contact with an arrestee while he was still in the car.

The state's position:

The state argued that the search incident to an arrest of the vehicle was proper as the officer first observed the defendant while he was in his vehicle.

The United States Supreme Court Holding:

The United States Supreme Court first reviewed the search of a vehicle incident to an arrest doctrine, which was first enunciated in the landmark case of New York v. Belton 453 U.S.454 (1981) in which the Supreme Court held that, when a police officer makes a lawful custodial arrest of an automobile's occupant, the 4th amendment allows the officer to search the vehicle's passenger compartment as a contemporaneous incident of arrest. The court noted that in Belton the Court had placed no importance on the fact that the police ordered the occupants out of the vehicle or initiated contact with them while they remained in it. To the court in all relevant aspects, the arrest of a suspect who is near or next to his vehicle presents identical concerns as one who is inside his vehicle.

Accordingly the Court held that the search incident to an arrest of a vehicle is permissible when the defendant is first contacted outside of his vehicle as long as the defendant was right near his vehicle and there was little passage of time between the defendant exiting his vehicle and being stopped by the police.

Note:

The Court spent some time discussing the safety and the destruction of evidence components of the search incident to arrest motivation. However, at the moment, the search incident to arrest doctrine remains a bright line rule relevant to all cases provided there is a lawful custodial arrest, regardless if there is a demonstrative safety or evidence destruction risk. This bright line rule has now been extended in those situations where the defendant is contacted right by the vehicle although not in the vehicle itself. This doctrine extension would likely not be permissible if the defendant is first contacted a substantial distance from his car or where there is no evidence that he had very recently been in the car.

MOTORIZED SCOOTER ACCIDENTS MUST BE REPORTED

Wisconsin's accident reporting statute requires that motorized scooter accidents be reported if the accident causes bodily injury, death or sufficient property damage, even if no other motor vehicle is involved. The accident reporting statute, s. 346.70, applies to all "vehicle" accidents--including motorized scooters--occurring on public roads and other premises open to the public for use of their motor vehicles.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation determined that the city of Brookfield Police Department properly reported an accident in which a 10-year-old riding a motorized scooter struck a dog and suffered injuries following his ejection from the motorized scooter. The department will tabulate motorized scooter accident data reported to it and will record motorized scooter accidents on the operator's driving record.

Wisconsin statutes do not define "motorized scooter." In general, a "motorized scooter" is a vehicle that is designed to be stood or sat upon by the operator and that has two small-diameter wheels in tandem, upright t-shaped handlebars, and is powered by an internal combustion engine or electric motor that is capable of propelling the device with or without human propulsion. Top speeds are generally 8-20 mph. They can be "souped up" to run at up to 40 m.p.h. Wisconsin law considers them to be "motor vehicles," under s. 340.01(22).

Any vehicle accident must be reported when it results in: injury or death of a person; $1,000 or more total damage to property owned by any one person; damages of $200 or more to government property (except motor vehicles).

Motorized scooters cannot be registered and so cannot legally be ridden on public roads. Unlicensed motorized scooter riders can be ticketed for operating without a license, operating while suspended, or operating after revocation.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION SERVICES AVAILABLE ON THE INTERNET

The Salt Lake City, Utah, Police Department reports the Alta Vista "Babelfish" site is a very practical and easy site to use in order to obtain language translation services over the Internet. It can translate up to 150 Alfa Numeric characters from a foreign language into English, or from English to another language.

The available languages are English, Spanish, Dutch, French, German, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Russian and (traditional) Chinese. The Babelfish website is located at: <http://babelfish.altavista.com>.

Another web site, which offers translation services is www.worldlingo.com. An Arabic website, www.ajeeb.com requires registration and a password, but the registration is free of charge. Worldlingo has numerous listings regarding translation, currency exchange rates, etc.

These sites can be quite useful to an investigator when a translator isn't immediately at hand and you need to communicate (albeit slowly) with someone who doesn't speak English. They can also assist in the translation of a manuscript or foreign language writings.

HANDY RESOURCES AVAILABLE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS

The State Bar of Wisconsin publishes comprehensive, practical reference books on complex areas of Wisconsin law. The reference books include several recent publications that are useful for law enforcement officials seeking quick, accurate answers to law-related questions. These resources, written by highly respected Wisconsin lawyers and judges, cover Wisconsin's OWI and traffic laws, rules of evidence, and critical terms used in criminal proceedings. Some of these resources include:

The OWI Laws Pocket Codebook 2004, a pocket-sized compilation of the statutes of the Wisconsin OWI laws, provides fast, easy, and accurate information specifically about OWI matters. This portable codebook features useful appendixes including alcohol charts for men and women, the OWI and related alcohol-penalties chart, as well as underage alcohol offenses and related penalties.

This exceptional resource is a useful and practical guide to Wisconsin traffic law, and included in the appendixes are relevant chapters of the Wisconsin Administrative Code, traffic safety school information, Department of Transportation charts, blood - alcohol charts, information on breath and field sobriety tests, and OWI arrest forms.

The annually updated Wisconsin Traffic Law Codebook contains the most important traffic statutes taken from the motor vehicle code, along with other statutes involving underage and intoxicated persons, the Juvenile Justice Code, the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, and general criminal procedures. The codebook also includes Department of Transportation administrative rules on driver licensing, demerit points, and alcohol testing Bond Book information, as well as the DOT charts on OWI and Related Penalties, Underage Alcohol Summary Sheet, and the Blood Alcohol Charts for females and males.

Wisconsin Criminal Code and Selected Traffic Statutes 2004 outlines hundreds of statutes compiled from Wisconsin's substantive and procedural criminal law (chapters 939-980). The handy, soft-cover booklet includes traffic statutes dealing with impaired driving offenses, the Wisconsin Rules of Evidence, recently enacted Truth-in-Sentencing legislation and selected provisions relating to corrections.

Critical Terms in Criminal Proceedings in Spanish & English 2004 (Terminologías Esenciales en el Proceso Criminal en Español e Inglés) offers a fast, convenient means to locate terms commonly used in criminal and traffic proceedings, and provides clear, accurate, plain-language descriptions of the criminal process in English and dialect-neutral Spanish.

The Wisconsin Rules of Evidence: Pocket Edition 2004, a condensed version of the Wisconsin Rules of Evidence, A Courtroom Handbook, provides just the rules – no commentary, no cases, no Judicial Committee notes – and is updated annually.
