MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Law Enforcement Official:

Within the last few years, Wisconsin has seen an alarming trend in heroin use. No longer simply a problem of larger, metropolitan areas, the number of heroin-related cases has expanded in both number and geographic scope. The rural areas of Wisconsin are now experiencing the destructive power of this drug in a way that defies the traditional understanding of drug use.

Make no mistake; any presence of heroin is deeply troubling. It is an extremely addictive substance with a high risk of overdose, multiple methods of delivery, and a decreasing price tag. Paired with another recent trend—the increase in prescription drug abuse—the problem only gets worse. Heroin now offers a less expensive, yet more potent, alternative to using painkillers like OxyContin® (oxycodone) and Vicodin® (hydrocodone), both of which are opiates like heroin that produce similar effects.

Heroin abuse brings not only acute problems of overdose and death, but it is also accompanied by an increase in criminal activity. This can be observed in many forms, from simple theft to burglary to robbery. Also, law enforcement in Wisconsin is finding a number of drug users and dealers who are buying heroin in areas like Milwaukee, Madison, Chicago or Rockford using a portion of the drugs bought, then driving back to their community. This means we have a number of drivers who are travelling our roadways while under the influence of heroin, putting themselves and everyone around them in danger.

The Department of Justice has identified this growing epidemic as a priority. A number of Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) special agents in every field office in the state have been trained to be experts in opiate-related investigations. Numerous training opportunities on heroin awareness have also been conducted by DCI throughout the state, educating hundreds of law enforcement officers so far. DCI also supervises a number of task forces throughout the state that pair local, state, and federal resources to investigate and prosecute drug trafficking.

The most useful tool for fighting this growing drug problem, however, is public awareness. This new trend must be brought to the public's attention in order to prevent more harm. It has been the prevailing belief in Wisconsin to think that heroin is only a problem in large cities like Chicago. And it is true that rural areas have traditionally been saved from hard drugs like heroin, but the reality is that the newest markets for heroin are suburban and rural areas. The heroin trade does not conform to past stereotypes of inner-city deals in dark alleys, but instead follows money and demand like any legitimate business would in an emerging market, and dealers have found their new market in rural and suburban Wisconsin.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "J.B. Van Hollen". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

*J.B. Van Hollen
Wisconsin Attorney General*

State v. Michael Sveum Decided by the Wisconsin Supreme Court 2010 WI 92

Issue:

This case involved the application of a Global Positioning System tracking device (GPS) on the outside of a vehicle found in a public place. The Wisconsin Supreme Court held that the police had a valid warrant to do this, thereby avoiding the more critical issue of whether or not it is a 4th amendment event to place a GPS tracker on a vehicle found in a public place.

Facts:

As part of a stalking investigation the police covertly attached a GPS device to Sveum's car in order to track it. Prior to the placement of the GPS the police had obtained a court order permitting them to do it based on probable cause. The order did not fit the structure of a traditional search warrant.

The Lower Court Holding: (Court of Appeals)

The defendant argued to the Wisconsin Court of Appeals, inter alia, that the placement of the GPS violated his privacy rights because the GPS permitted the police to monitor the location of his vehicle when it was in his garage and in his employer's garage, places out of the public view. Sveum thus reasoned that since some of the GPS information would violate his privacy then all the information the GPS generated should be suppressed.

The Court of Appeals rejected Sveum's arguments. First the court reprised the notion that neither a search nor a seizure occurs when the police use a GPS device to track a vehicle while it is visible to the general public. The Court referenced the 7th Circuit case of United States v. Garcia 474 F.3d 994 (7th Cir. 2007) which concluded that attaching a GPS unit to a vehicle while the car was in a public place did not convert the subsequent tracking into a 4th amendment search. The Court also opined that the occasional placement of the vehicle in the garage did not change the equation because presumably visual surveillance could have revealed when Sveum's vehicle entered or left a garage. Also, importantly, the court noted that even if a GPS would somehow reveal suppressible evidence that does not mean that all of the evidence the tracker obtained should be suppressed.

Arguments on Appeal to the Wisconsin Supreme Court:

The defendant appealed the Court of Appeals holding to the Wisconsin Supreme Court arguing that the lower court was wrong in finding that the placement of the GPS tracker was not a 4th amendment event and also arguing that the court order was insufficient to operate as a search warrant.

The state argued that the court order was sufficient and also argued that the defendant had no expectation of privacy as to the GPS.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court Holding:

The court held that the court order was sufficient to serve as a search warrant. Unfortunately because the Court so held they passed on the opportunity of deciding on the validity of the court of appeals holding that the placement of a GPS tracker on a vehicle found in a public place is not a 4th amendment event.

Advice:

Upon consideration of the existing law on the issue the following is my recommendations.

If the vehicle is in a private place, get a warrant.

If the vehicle is in a murky place, like the front driveway, get a warrant.

If the vehicle is in a public place and you have PC play it safe and get a warrant.

If the vehicle is in a public place and you don't have PC but really want to track the vehicle- slap one on the favorable language of the Court of Appeals holding in Sveum was not overturned by the Wisconsin Supreme Court, so there is ample legal justification for such a ploy and at the worst it can be a good test case to force the High Court to finally make a decision on the issue.

Of course, as always, it is best to discuss the issue with your DA's office to see what their thoughts are.

SYNTHETIC THC KNOWN AS K2

A recent news story on K2 appeared on a television station in Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

Eau Claire (WQOW) The Eau Claire City council votes to ban K2.

After nearly an hour of discussion, the Eau Claire City Council voted nine to two in favor of an ordinance banning the use and sale of K2 in Eau Claire. K2 is flavored incense sprayed with synthetic chemical similar to marijuana, like marijuana it gives anyone that smokes it a high.

On Monday (July 26, 2010) a group of residents brought a petition forward with 450 signatures opposing the ban. The group wanted the council to reject the ordinance, but on Tuesday the council voted to ban the product. The ban would take effect in August.

Law enforcement in the Eau Claire area has had a problem with the distribution and use of K2 with at least one person being hospitalized. K2, which is also known as Spice, Mr. Smiley, Genie, Zohai and other names, may be sold as an incense with instructions on the packaging that it is not intended for human consumption. Obviously that warning is being ignored.

K2 or Spice is an herbal material which has been coated with a synthetic compound which mimics the affects of THC. These synthetic compounds were developed by Dr. John W. Huffman of Clemson University.

The following is a brief background on Dr. Huffman from Wikipedia:

John W. Huffman is a Clemson University organic chemistry research professor who has discovered many analogues and metabolites of delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol, the principle active component of cannabis, including JWH-007, JWH-015, JWH-018, JWH-030, JWH-051, JWH-073, JWH-081, JWH-122, JWH-133, JWH-147, JWH-171, JWH-182, JWH-203, JWH-210, JWH-250, JWH-307, JWH-359 and JWH-398. His research, funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse was focused on making a drug to target endocannabinoid receptors in the body. Some of these compounds have been used in drugs such as Spice and K2. Huffman has warned against taking these drugs recreationally, noting, "It's like playing Russian roulette. You don't know what it's going to do to you." He has warned that the cannabinoid receptors "may be involved in the development of conditions such as osteoporosis, liver disease and some kinds of cancer."

Dr. Huffman developed these synthetic compounds to mimic the effect of THC and other cannabinoids for research purposes. These synthetic compounds are generally produced in China and Korea, sprayed onto herbs and spices and smoked or burned and inhaled. Poison Centers nationwide have reported 352 cases of people sickened by the substance in 35 states. Patients who have smoked the faux dope have complained of hallucinations, paranoia, severe agitation, elevated heart rates, vomiting, seizures and dangerously high blood pressure.

These synthetic JWH compounds are not currently controlled federally although there has been discussion by DEA to do so. A number of states have regulated these synthetic compounds. Kansas, Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Missouri and Tennessee have banned K2. Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey and New York are considering bills to outlaw the drug. A number of counties and cities have enacted their own bans of these synthetic compounds. Eau Claire is the first and only city in Wisconsin to have banned K2 and any related synthetic compounds. Attorney General J. B. Van Hollen has asked Wisconsin legislators to take action on K2 which would lead to a law against the possession, distribution or delivery of these synthetic compounds. Representative Jeff Smith from Eau Claire may be introducing legislation in January to do just that.

These JWH compounds are not to be confused with the synthetic THC like compound HU-210 which is a schedule I controlled substance under the federal Controlled Substances Act. HU-210 is structurally and pharmacologically similar to  $\Delta^9$ -THC, the main active ingredient of marijuana. HU-210 which was first synthesized in 1988 is used in scientific research to identify cannabinoid receptors in the brain and study the mechanisms of action of  $\Delta^9$ -THC. HU-210 has been discovered in seized Spice Gold products which has led to the confusion with JWK products found in herbs and spices and called Spice.

FBI OFFICERS KILLED

These statistics represent preliminary information received by the FBI, January through July 2010: Thirty-one law enforcement officers have been killed due to criminal actions. During the same time period in 2009, 29 officers were slain. Thirteen deaths occurred in the south, eight in the Midwest, seven in the west, two in the U.S. Territory of Puerto Rico, and one officer in the northeast. Circumstances involving the 31 slain officers are as follows: nine officers were ambushed, seven were attempting other arrests, four were slain while performing traffic pursuits/stops, four were investigating suspicious persons or circumstances, two were answering disturbance calls (domestic related), two were involved in investigative activities, one was investigating a robbery, one was investigating a burglary, and one officer was involved in tactical situation. Firearms were used in 30 of the 31 killings (20 handguns, nine rifles, and one type of firearm not reported). A vehicle was used in one killing. Sixteen of the 31 officers were wearing protective vests. There have been 27 separate incidents in which these 31 officers have been slain. Twenty-six of the 27 incidents have been cleared by arrest or exceptional means. Forty-six law enforcement officers have been accidentally killed. During the same time period in 2009, 32 officers were accidentally killed. Twenty-four deaths occurred in the south, nine in the west, seven in the midwest, and six in the northeast. Twenty-seven officers were killed in automobile accidents, nine were struck by vehicles, four were killed in motorcycle accidents, two were accidentally shot, one was killed from falling, one was killed in a boating accident, one in an ATV accident, and one officer was killed in an aircraft accident.

Incident Summaries

Chicago Police Department, Illinois, Veteran Officer, aged 43 with over 10 years law enforcement experience with agency, was fatally shot on 07/07/2010. Officer was standing at back of patrol unit removing his equipment after just finishing his shift. Subject approached officer from behind, took Officer's service weapon from Officer's holster, and used service weapon to fatally shoot Victim Officer in head. Shortly thereafter, subject committed armed robbery. Pursuing officers shot subject, resulting with subject being hospitalized.

Chicago Police Department (CPD), Illinois, Veteran Police Officer, aged 62 with over 20 years law enforcement experience with agency, was fatally shot on 07/18/2010. At approximately 6:05 a.m., Officer was found unresponsive laying in street in front of his personally owned vehicle. Officer, dressed in uniform, had just returned home after completing overnight shift and was cleaning windows on his vehicle. He suffered gunshot wounds to upper chest and stomach areas. Witnesses told CPD they heard shots fired and went outside when they saw Victim Officer lying in street. Victim Officer was transported to local hospital and was pronounced deceased short time later. Several spent casings were found on ground near scene of incident as well as two handguns. No subjects have been identified at this time.

George County Sheriff's Department (GCSD), Mississippi, Veteran Sheriff, aged 63 with 37 years law enforcement experience was fatally struck at approximately 2:45 p.m., on 07/21/2010. Driver and passenger of vehicle were being pursued by GCSD deputies for State of Mississippi warrant for driver's failing to appear for sentencing on drug charge. In attempt to escape and avoid apprehension, subjects intentionally used vehicle to run over Victim Sheriff, who was on foot. Chief deputy was standing in proximity to Victim Sheriff at time of incident, but was uninjured. Victim Sheriff later died from massive trauma caused by subjects' actions. During pursuit, subjects had thrown methamphetamine from vehicle in attempt to avoid further narcotics charges and to destroy evidence of criminal enterprise activities. On 07/22/2010, driver and passenger of vehicle were taken into custody after intense manhunt. Both subjects were charged with capital murder.

Taylor Police Department, Michigan, Veteran Corporal, aged 31 with over six years law enforcement experience, was fatally shot on 07/23/2010. At approximately 6 a.m., officers responded to apartment complex for breaking and entering call. Individual was seen in parking lot matching description of subject. Corporal encountered individual, who pulled out firearm and shot Corporal. Another corporal returned gunfire, striking subject several times. Victim Corporal and subject were transported to local hospital where Victim Corporal was pronounced dead. Subject underwent surgery and is listed in stable condition.

Chandler Police Department (CPD), Arizona, Veteran Police Officer, aged 34 with eight years law enforcement experience, was fatally shot on 07/28/2010. Officers were part of undercover police squad that was purportedly willing to sell large quantities of marijuana in "reversal" drug sting/operation to several subjects in Phoenix. Because deal was to be done in Phoenix, Phoenix Police Department was aware of and somewhat involved in operation. Drug deal went bad with gun battle resulting in Victim Police Officer being fatally wounded and two other CPD officers sustaining non-life threatening gunshot wounds. Two subjects were fatally wounded in gunfire exchange. Six subjects were arrested and charged with various charges.

Greene County Sheriff's Office, North Carolina, Veteran Deputy Sheriff, aged 30 with eight years law enforcement experience with agency, was fatally shot on 07/28/2010. At approximately 7:40 p.m., Deputy Sheriff responded to 911 call involving dispute between woman and her son. Son was drunk and irate because mother tried to keep him from drinking more. Mother advised that son had gun and threatened to use it. Deputy Sheriff was first to arrive on scene. Two other units were responding as backup. Deputy entered house and talked briefly with mother. Son was known by deputies for similar behavior. Son (subject) exited bedroom, shot Victim Deputy Sheriff, who was not wearing body armor, several times in chest with 9mm handgun, took Deputy's .45 caliber service weapon, and then shot Victim Deputy one more time in head. Subject spoke to mother saying he was sorry and was going to kill himself. Subject shot himself in head with Deputy's service weapon. Victim Deputy and subject were deceased upon arrival of first backup deputy.

Additional details regarding these incidents are not available at this time. Should you wish to obtain information for condolence purposes, please contact your department's Law Enforcement Online (LEO) representative.

COURSE OPTIONS AT A GLANCE:

LEGAL UPDATE: Dave Perlman and Kitty Anderson
 Dave Perlman, Assistant Attorney General, will do a case law and statutory update for Law Enforcement Officers.
 Kitty Anderson, Chief Legal Counsel for the Wisconsin Dept. of Corrections, will do an update for Corrections Officers on current legal issues in Corrections. Wednesday morning only.

CULTURAL COMPETENCE: Sharon Miemietz
 The Training and Standards Bureau is changing its Diversity training focus to the curriculum contained within the Cultural Competence Program. During this luncheon presentation, Sharon Miemietz, et.al., will familiarize attendees with the new curriculum and how it will be used/integrated into basic training. Wednesday luncheon only.

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SEXUAL ABUSE AND CRIMINAL ACTIVITY: Scott Neubauer
 Scott Neubauer, former Police Chief, current UW Whitewater lecturer, and author of “The Relationship Between Sexual Abuse and Criminal Activity” leads this session, designed to improve your ability to identify, investigate and report physical and sexual abuse of children. Wednesday afternoon only.

FTO TROUBLESHOOTING OPEN FORUM: Dennis Saager
 How much do we remediate? When do we remediate, and when do we terminate? What’s the case law involving FTO’s and probationary officers? What are the pitfalls FTO’s fall into? How do FTO’s avoid burnout? What other issues are on your mind? Bring your questions, issues and answers to this session of information sharing. Wednesday afternoon only.

CORRECTIONS TRAINING BLOCK: Marty Drapkin, et.al.
 Marty Drapkin and members of his committees are developing this block of instruction. Wednesday afternoon only.

TRAINING AND STANDARDS UPDATE: Ken Hammond
 Training and Standards Director Ken Hammond will provide an update on what is going on at Training and Standards, and how it impacts instructors and training. Friday morning only.

WELL TRAINING: Dr. Christie Jackson, Paul Smith
 Wellness Education and Lifeskills for Law Enforcement is a four-section resilience-building program designed for law enforcement personnel, and is applicable to corrections personnel as well. The program is based on treatment approaches that will reduce the potential for you or your personnel to develop job-interfering disorders, improve coping ability, and improve department morale. Dr. Jackson is a clinical psychologist and Assistant Professor at the NYU School of Medicine Trauma and Resilience Research program. Paul Smith is a retired veteran of L.A. County Sheriff’s Office and Madison PD, and a survivor of two deadly force encounters. Thursday only.

POWERPOINT FOR PUBLIC SAFETY: Tom Manson

Learn new tricks and expand your skills using PowerPoint by attending one of these 2-hour sessions covering FAST Presentation Development, Splash Screens, Capturing Video, and Custom Animation. Tom is a former US Border Patrol Agent who has taught at Wichita State University and Indiana State University, and is now the owner of Police Technical. Thursday morning or afternoon.

EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES IN LAW ENFORCEMENT: Tom Manson

Compare "35,000 years of technology in 30 minutes" to the emerging technologies of LPR, Biometrics, Computers and more. Learn about the best practices for managing technology. Tom is a former US Border Patrol Agent who has taught at Wichita State University and Indiana State University, and is now the owner of Police Technical. Thursday morning or afternoon.

GATEWAY BEHAVIORS, AUTISM AND OTHER BEHAVIORAL CHALLENGES: Joel Lashley

Gateway behaviors are like gateway drugs. Bad behavior leads to worse behavior. This holds true as much for prisoner behavior as it does teenage drug use. If we don't draw the limits for behavior early in the relationship, we will suffer the consequences of rapid, dangerous escalation. Join CorrectionsOne columnist Joel Lashley for this session identifying and combating gateway behaviors and dealing with other behavior issues. Joel is a senior security services officer and Crisis and Violence Management trainer for Childrens Hospital of Wisconsin, and is a contributor to CorrectionsOne. Thursday morning or afternoon.

SURVIVING DEADLY FORCE ENCOUNTERS: Paul Smith

Paul talks about the tactical, emotional and psychological things that happened to him as a survivor of two deadly force encounters. Friday morning only.

Humane officers: An investment to help face hard times

Registration deadline for training is Sept. 10

Economists say we've emerged from recession. But for the unemployed and for public agencies, the light at the end of the tunnel looks mighty dim. Those of you working under ever-shrinking public budgets know that hard times have meant ever-growing needs. While property tax revenues and state aid drop, you're seeing rising numbers of pets and livestock neglected, abused, or deserted – and their frequent partner, rising numbers of domestic abuse cases.

Humane officer training can be a real resource at a time like this. The 40-hour humane officer training course provides specialized skills and background knowledge that will help you investigate animal cases – skills and knowledge you probably didn't get in police academy. You can earn continuing education credits, too.

This year's training is set for Oct. 4-8 in Madison, with a registration deadline of Friday, Sept. 10. Interested? Read on:

What is a humane officer?

Humane officers may be civilians who investigate animal abuse and neglect situations or allegations. They may be employees of a village, town, city or county who have animal investigation as all or part of their duties. They may also contract as individuals, or be staff members of humane societies that contract with local jurisdictions to investigate animal cases. Law enforcement officers may also be humane officers, either formally or de facto.

If we can handle these cases as law enforcement officers, why spend the time and money on this training?

First, having someone dedicated to animal cases and specially trained may prevent animal cases from becoming public relations nightmares. Photographing an animal hoarder's home is not the same as photographing a murder scene, taking fecal samples is different from taking fingerprints, animal law is more than just reading the statute – that's the kind of specialized knowledge that will make your job easier when you investigate animal cases. With these specialized skills, you can handle animal cases more quickly, efficiently and effectively and put together cases that the district attorney can take to court. That makes for better headlines and happier citizens.

Second, you may save public money by being trained to recognize when the solution is education rather than prosecution. Then too, what looks like neglect or abuse to the uninitiated may in fact be acceptable animal husbandry. Humane officer training will help you see the difference. Either way, you can seize the teachable moment and avoid costly legal cases.

Third, effective handling of animal cases may save human lives. Increasingly, research is finding a link between animal and domestic abuse. A child or teen who abuses animals may grow up to victimize a spouse, children, or elderly parent. Or a case of animal abuse may be what appears publicly when domestic abuse is going on behind closed doors. Domestic abusers may keep their victims from leaving by threatening animals.

Fourth, when you handle animal cases quickly and effectively, you free up time and resources for other investigations involving human victims.

Last, law officers who have attended the training in the past have commented that they've taken away a great deal of new knowledge that they never expected to learn. We appreciate having the law enforcement viewpoint and knowledge that you can contribute to civilian trainees, too. The most effective handling of animal cases occurs where law officers and humane officers work together and complement one another's skills.

What happens during humane officer training?

Classroom teachers include veterinarians, attorneys, and law officers with years of experience in investigating animal cases. Trainees always rate these folks high on depth and breadth of knowledge as well as on humorous, personable style. We also take participants to the barns at the University of Wisconsin-Madison for hands-on training – another highly rated feature of the class.

Topics covered include:

- The animal investigator's role
- Rules of evidence
- Rules of search and seizure
- Civil liability
- Wisconsin animal law
- Facility standards
- Evaluation of cruelty
- Nutrition
- Body conditioning and scoring
- Pet shop investigations
- Photography and sketching
- Crime scene procedures and evidence collection
- Interview and interrogation
- Report writing
- Courtroom testimony
- Crisis intervention and officer safety

Where can I get more information?
